Reason(s): Major or minor requirement

Additional Reason(s):

Effort: I put an immense amount of effort into this class. I would come to class prepared, having diligently read the material beforehand and eager to discuss the material during classtime. Moreover, I would ask Professor Walker any questions I had about any specific material or anything grade-wise. I would write my essays with care, would heavily edit them to the best of my ability, and would study my best for any test or exam we had this semester.

Understanding & Appreciation: This course heavily added to my interest in Political Science and Congress. I was always interested in both fields and intended on being a political science major, however, Professor Walker's teaching expanded my interest heavily. He taught the class with such nuance and care, tying back every point and discussion to the real world and our own reality. He made the class incredibly interesting and made me know for sure that I want to be a political science major.

Intellectual Growth: Beyond the course subject, Professor Walker's teachings made me think and realize how the material we were learning in Congress affected the world beyond the classroom. Every event and bill we studied were factors throughout history that had/have affected people's lives. Professor Walker made sure to point this out to us, and I am so glad that he did. This aspect of the class allowed me to, in my opinion, become a more considerate person as I began to think, way more than before, about how the actions of the government can affect the average person. Professor Walker's class isn't just a class that allows someone to grow in the classroom and gain a love for political science, it is a class that allows his students to grow as people as well and ponder the relationship between government and citizenry.

Quality: The teaching in this course was beyond incredible. Professor Walker is one of the best professors I have had during my time at Colgate. He would always go above and beyond for his students, preparing every class with immense care, and eager to have everyone participate in discussions regarding the course material. He was clear with his grading instructions, was fair and willing to explain everything, and did his best to make sure all of his students succeeded. Professor Walker was an engaging teacher and I can honestly, and proudly, say that the whole class loved being there and hearing what he had to say about Congress. Professor Walker is an incredible professor at Colgate and is one of the professors I hope to take more classes with. Thank you for a fantastic class Professor Walker, you taught me a lot.

Reason(s): Elective outside major or minor
Reputation of the instructorAdditional Reason(s):Effort: I put a good amount of effort into the course. I did the majority of the reading while studying hard for tests and spending good time on essays.Understanding & Appreciation: I have so much understanding about congress now. The professor turned what could be a potentially boring topic, into a gripping tale about the legislative body of the US. I came to class each day excited to learn more, and now truly realize the long process it takes to me to turn a bill into a law. Also, we examined some of the most important laws in history which I now have greater context to American history such as the civil war with the Kansas Nebraska act and why society is the way it currently is. I learned so much in his class.Intellectual Growth: Most of the time I don't know what to say for this question, but I clearly know how this contributed to my intellectual growth in this class. I'll give a personal anecdote. At the time of writing, the draft of Roe v Wade being overturned had been leaked, and I discussed with my mother several points I had learned about in class such as: self determination, power to the people, and whether if something that is so morally important or pertaining to the rights of citizens should be covered by the federal government. All these concepts we covered in class and I realized I making opinions based on my knowledge we had learned about. I have many more examples, but this class truly makes me think critically about politics in the US and makes me want to possibly minor in Political Science.Quality: Professor Walker is one of the best professors I have ever had. He tells the history of congress with great passion, and occasional humor. He tries to get us to participate at times while keeping g me throughly engaged. I've always felt like that he grades fairly and he's an extremely nice person. My understanding of the course material is really high and it's always relevant to current events in congress. I really want to take another class with him if possible since he explains things so well. Please make him a full time professor.

Additional Reason(s): BEST PROFESSOR AT COLGATE!

Effort: I put a good amount in effort into studying for the exams. However, the course load was extremely reasonable and manageable. Professor Walker lectured so effectively so most of my understanding of the course derived from class, and I did not have to do much outside work.

Understanding & Appreciation: I only had a vague understanding of Congress because of what the media presented. This has enriched my understanding of Congress and the U.S. Government because of how in depth the course was. The historical context was helpful to see how things have changed over time and how they have impacted us.

Intellectual Growth: I feel like this course has made me more aware of what is going on in the world. I am more knowledgeable of what things going on in Congress mean, what bills/laws mean when/if they pass and how they impact the country. I used to have to rely on someone else telling me what it meant or if it was important but thanks to this course, I am able to take away and understand so much of what is going on in the government.

Quality: PHENOMENAL. thats all I have to say. This class was wonderful as a result of the instructor. No weaknesses, only strengths!

Additional Reason(s): I took this class because Professor Walker taught me first semester in Presidencies and Executive Leadership and I wanted to have him as a professor again.

Effort: This course is my favorite of my 4 classes so I enjoy putting in effort. I enjoy going to the guest lectures for extra credit and putting in large amounts of efforts into our reflections as I find the material interesting, and because I want to succeed.

Understanding & Appreciation: Because of this class I know a lot more about how our congressional system works and how it works with other branches of the American government Intellectual Growth: By diving deep into Congress, I have learned a significant amount. I am interning with my congressman this summer and this course has thoroughly prepared me in understanding how Congress works.

Quality: Professor Walker is hands down my favorite professor I have had at Colgate thus far. I have had him for the 2 semesters I have been here and have learned a significant amount on how our government system works. His lectures are incredibly interesting and engaging. He cares deeply about his students and wants everyone in his class to succeed. I can say with honesty that he does not have any weaknesses, I believe he is an incredible professor and I hope to take more classes with him in the future. In addition, I have seen many of my professors across campus and price chopper and he has been the only one to always say hello!

Intellectual Growth: This course taught me a lot about what it takes to get things done in Congress.Quality: I have enjoyed this class with professor Walker but I wish that it was more engaging. There is really no opportunity for class discussion and the class is all lecture. I think there could be more discussion in class if it was less so a history lecture and more so an open discussion about how we interpreted the impact of certain decisions. Despite this, I think Prof. Walker is a kind and understanding professor who cares about his students and I hope he recovers well from his procedure.
